

Blackheart Records Discography

Blackheart records was founded by ex-Runaways guitarist/singer Joan Jett and songwriter/producer Kenny Laguna in 1983 after the album they recorded [Album] was rejected by 23 major labels. For the remainder of the 1980s it was basically a vehicle for Joan Jett and the Blackhearts records, but in the 1990s, after the industry went to CDs, it branched out into other artists including hip-hop music.
