

Philly World Records Discography

Philly World Records was founded in 1982 by Peter S. Pelullo. It was a subsidiary of Alpha International Studios. It was discontinued in 1986 and returned to Alpha.

The label was self-distributed for the first two years, but in 1984 Pelullo signed a one-year agreement with Atlantic for the label to be distributed as part of the Atco 90000 series. This agreement ended in 1985, and the last Philly World/Atco album was reissued that year under MCA Records.

Philly World started by issuing 12" disco singles under the PWR 2000 series. Their first full album was also issued in this series as PWR 2003, but clearer heads prevailed and the album was quickly reissued under a new PWLP-1000 series for full albums.
